

I am the first person in my family to graduate college and to obtain an advanced degree. I am a daughter, Mother, Wife and a Professional person who wants to bring collaboration and pride back to our City of E. Palo Alto. I excel at maintaining composure, analyzing complex information, and offering unique insights that drive success. I hold an MBA with a focus on Healthcare Management and am FEMA certified through the Emergency Management Institute. I have deep-rooted connections to my community. After receiving my degree, I went back to teach at the same elementary school I attended. That is where I met and taught our current City Mayor! I am dedicated to expanding educational opportunities in our East Palo Alto community because the students we inspire today are the leaders of tomorrow. When elected you can count on my consistency in character and my optimism in working towards achieving our BEST in several key areas: Developing pathways and partnerships to ensure robust emergency preparedness plans and support systems for our community. Expanding access to affordable childcare services to support working families. Increasing healthcare senior care access while fostering a sense of community and pride that encourages collaboration.
